added a front entry door awning last fall.

"We wanted to get the maximum coverage for the back deck and the aluminum awning fit the bill," said the Hamilton Township resident. "It was like adding another room to the house. Now when we have company, what ever the weather, we can use the deck," he added.

"Our front entry door had no cover and rain was an issue when we entered the house. Now with our new aluminum entry door we are dry and it also protected the door from the sun's heat in the afternoon.

We found Awning Design's staff to be very efficient and the workmanship was great."

In addition to aluminum awnings, Awning Design West provides all types of custom awning fabrications for both residential and commercial applications. These include motorized retractable awnings, stationary and motorized canopy awnings, window and door awnings, free-standing cabanas and Pergola covers, solar screen and black-out shades. The company is the largest retailer of Durasol Awnings, carries NuImage Awning products and its own brand of custom-made awnings called SunBlok.

Inquire about innovative products, such as wind-motion sensors that cause an awning to automatically retract, adjustable pitch or roll drops that enable homeowners to spend more time in the late afternoon enjoying their awning and outdoor living space.
